Whether you're a newly minted MBA or corporate chieftain, summer law associate or firm partner, Balani will custom-fit you for style and success.

When StyleChicago visited their showroom, a handsome, athletic-looking gentleman and his gorgeous companion were making selections from the Fabric Bar™ at Balani's while being measured for the ultimate fit.

Custom suits at Balani typically range from $795 to $3,900, while 200 thread-count suits are closer to $5,000.

In addition to custom suits, you'll also find:

- Formal wear
- Slacks
- Blazers & Sport Coats
- Dress Shirts
- Outerwear
- Ties, cufflinks and shoes

BALANI uses only the finest fabrics from renowned purveyors of cloth from Milan to London.

For the man who has everything, we recommend Balani's signature pinstripe suit. The pinstripes are personalized to reflect small text, be it monogrammed with a company name, sports team or any words with special meaning to you. You won't find this off-the-rack, even at the finest luxury department stores in Chicago. (Price: ~$10,000).

To determine your exact fit, BALANI takes 23 precise measurements to allow clothing to drape your body perfectly. A computer database keeps your measurements on file, so orders can conveniently be taken via e-mail

Can conveniently be taken via e-mail or by phone. Suits typically take six weeks from the time of your fitting.

To keep the experience a truly personal one, BALANI is open by appointment only. Adding to the experience, clients can sit and relax at the contemporary Fabric Bar™ and select fabrics while sipping on a complimentary beverage.

BALANI's 2nd floor showroom windows are visible from the street at 10 S. LaSalle, near Madison St.
